The Innovation Enigma: Personal Auto Leads the Way

It doesn't seem to matter who you talk to, insurance as an industry is almost always categorized as a follower instead of a leader when it comes to innovation. At ACORD2015 in Boca Raton, the discussion about innovation and what it takes to lead the industry will be front and center. One session in particular, "The Innovation Enigma: Personal Auto Leads the Way," will use personal auto as a jumping-off point by asking the question, "Why is personal auto leading the way when it comes to innovation?"

Scholars Make the Grade at ACORD2015

One of the most effective ways to drive positive change within our industry is attracting new talent. As we look to #ACORD2015, nearly 90 applicants from schools across the nation have applied to be an ACORD2015 scholar. Besides learning about the ins and outs of the insurance industry, this year's winners will have the ability to network with potential employers and colleagues from all over the nation.

ACORD Certificates Approved in NY

The New York legislature recently passed new Insurance Law Article 5 "Certificates of Insurance," which requires standard certificate of insurance forms issued by an industry standard-setting organization to be reviewed and approved by the Superintendent of Financial Services. As a result, ACORD submitted standard certificates of insurance to the DFS for review and ACORD is pleased with the Department's quick response and approval time.

Binding Authority: Lloyd's Initiative Project Tomorrow

ACORD is pleased to announce its participation in the Lloyd's initiative called "Project Tomorrow" - which recently went live. ACORD XML (AML) is now being used to send risk bound reporting data on property risks from Australia to the Lloyd's market on a weekly basis straight through to systems in London with no rekeying.

2015 ACORD Forum Southern Africa

This year's ACORD Forum Southern Africa marked a new location, new format and record attendance! The event combined general sessions as well as more intimate roundtable sessions focusing on specific areas of interest. The roundtables each had a discussion leader who ensured the attendees got what they wanted from the individual sessions. Feedback was shared with the whole group later in the day.
